BUILDING MUST BEGIN AT ONCE.

An Increasing Number Coming This Way For Business, Health and Pleaure—Some Are Already Unable to Find Suitable Accommodations—Real Estate Men and Architects Feel the Tide of Returning Prosperity—The Magnificent Record, the Dazzling Future and the Golden Opportunity.

Business improvement will not take place in Colorado Springs as a result of the election. Good government is the sunshine necessary to the growth of business, but the business depends first of all upon circumstances of soil, of moisture, of cultivation, and more than all, of seed planted. Republican success does not guarantee prosperity; it makes it possible, and it was almost impossible under Populist misrule and Waite's personal despotism.

That business has already showed an improvement in the week following election is a complete demonstration of all that the Republicans claimed regarding the weight which had been resting upon the State, but if prosperity is to continue, if the progress that we hope for is to be made, it must rest upon something more substantial than the success of any set of candidates or of any political party. For the past year the business situation in Colorado Springs has been very much like that of a lot of potatoes sprouting in a dark cellar, or planted in a cold, damp, ill drained soil—all the conditions of prosperous growth are present except one. The Republican success, the declaration of the people of Colorado in favor of law and order will furnish that lacking condition, and prosperity must follow.

Increased Population.

The truth of the above statement becomes more apparent as the local situation is analyzed. In the first place there has been a large increase of population. The census of 1890 gave us hardly more than 11,000 people, but according to the vote cast in 1894 we may justly claim 18,000. Indirect evidence of various kinds points all in the same way. The utter inadequacy of the opera house for public meetings has been conclusively demonstrated time and time again. The new Coliseum has been opened less than half a dozen times and is not yet completed, but it has already been shown that it will be too small rather than too large for the purpose for which it was built. Many of the churches are too small for their congregations, as is fully evidenced by chairs in the aisles and people turned from the doors. The schools are so over-crowded that late comers are obliged to take their chances in the seats of those absent for the day or find accommodations on boxes and benches. The problem of finding room for the children, always a pressing one for the school board, was never more urgent and harassing than at the present time.

The accommodations for temporary residents are totally inadequate. Hotels and boarding houses are crowding to overflowing. Furnished houses are not to be had. In one particular instance a gentleman well acquainted in Colorado Springs who rented his own home with the idea of renting a smaller house found the utmost difficulty in securing a place to live. Strangers have not been so fortunate. Mr. Buckman, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, told a Gazette man yesterday that he knows as a positive fact that many strangers in the past two weeks have been obliged to go to Denver and other places because they could not find suitable accommodations in Colorado Springs.

More Houses Needed.

And in the face of this the indications are for a larger number of newcomers than ever before. The Chamber of Commerce is in daily receipt of letters from all over the United States saying, "We are coming to Colorado Springs this winter. How about accommodations?"

Such condition of affairs needs a remedy, of course. It must be remedied. Colorado Springs cannot afford to admit that she is unable to accommodate her visitors, she cannot afford to allow such an impression to become current. More accommodations must and will be provided. Already the real estate offices are beginning to feel the movement, and already the architects are hearing from people who are going to build. From the real estate men intending purchasers learn that prices are comparatively low, that many pieces of property are still offered at hard times prices. From the architects people who are thinking of building may ascertain that materials of all kinds are lower than ever before, and that good and experienced workmen are ready to offer their services. Fortunate will those men be who take advantages of the present opportunities to "get in on the ground floor."

A Magnificent Record.

During the bad years Colorado Springs has suffered very little as compared with other cities. No bank failures here; very few business failures; very few mortgage foreclosures; real estate steady, and little, if any, decline; always some building for residence and business purposes going on; a steady increase in population, comprising invalids, tourists and permanent residents; what other city in the country can show an equal record for the past two years?

The greatest gold district in the world within thirty miles; a natural gas belt of unknown extent within the city limits; a situation, climate and water supply unsurpassed for healthfulness and agreeableness; a reputation for business stability and integrity magnificently established; these are the things upon which we rely for the future.

A Golden Opportunity.

Colorado Springs has before it a golden opportunity. Prosperity is within her reach and she only needs to stretch out her hand to grasp it. Two things especially are necessary; an intelligent activity on the part of every individual member of the community, and a disposition on the part of all to work together for the common good.

ATCHISON AFFAIRS.

An Unfortunate Condition Shown by Expert Little's Statement.

New York, Nov. 12. The report of Stephen Little, the expert, to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe re-organization committee made public to-day gives the corrected revenue accounts of the system for the four years ending June 20, 1894, made necessary by the payment of rebates. It shows first that the interest was not fully earned on the general mortgage 4 per cent bonds. The net revenue after deducting taxes and rentals and the over-statements caused by payment of rebates, and $305,050 for depreciation in equipment was $5,936,614. The subsidy of $350,000 for the Sonora Railway Company is due, but as this is the last payment, it is deducted for a basis for a plan of re-organization. Deducting also interest of the guarantee fund notes, equipment bonds and car trust notes, there would remain the sum of $4,816,264 applicable to the interest on the $128,365,605 4 per cent guarantee mortgage bonds, equal to 3.75 per cent on the same. This excludes all calculation of interest on the unfunded or floating debt. If the loss on the St. Louis, Kansas City and Colorado road $95,824 and the contributions made by the Atchison company under the tripartite agreements with the Atlantic and Pacific and the St. Louis and San Francisco, amounting to $341,401, are not considered, the net earnings would be increased to $5,253,489, or 4.09 per cent on the general mortgage.

"While, however," states Mr. Little, "it may be said that substantially the interest on the 4 per cent general mortgage gold bonds has been earned from the Atchison system, every one conversant with the facts knows that these earnings depend to some extent upon the maintenance of the integrity of the entire system, including its auxiliaries—the Atlantic and Pacific railroad and the Colorado Midland and the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad. The revenue statements of these auxiliary companies for the year ended June 30, 1894, will show the severe decline upon the Atchison system that a continuance of their present fixed charges would involve. It will be observed that the total loss for that year on the Atlantic and Pacific (including fixed charges on the existing basis) was $1,360,034.34, one-half of which is chargeable to the Atchison, and one-half to the St. Louis and San Francisco. The loss on the Colorado Midland, the whole of which is chargeable to the Atchison, was $647,754.08, while the loss on the St. Louis and San Francisco, also chargeable to the Atchison, was $599,661.86."

On the results of the adjustment that may be reached with these companies if they are retained in the system, will depend the real surplus available for payment of the interest on the Atchison general mortgage 4 per cent bonds, taking the earnings for the year ended June 30, 189, as a basis. The notes of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company received by the St. Louis and San Francisco company through the Atchison company under the tripartite agreements, are not credited by it to its current income account, but to a "deferred" income account, thus clearly implying that the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Comderpany never expects these notes to be paid. For the four years under consideration the cash portion taken into the St. Louis and San Francisco income by this account was $262,050.66, and the amount credited to its "deferred" income against the Atlantic and Pacific notes was $905,126.03. The amount expended for improvements on the Atchison system is not given, as the expenditures on this account are held to be properly chargeable to capital and not to revenue. The amount thus expended and charged to capital account, not including sums expended for new construction and new equipment in the year ended June 30, 1894, was $712,784.82.

The whole amount expended for improvements of this character from October 1, 1889, to April 30, 1894 (including the $712,784.82) was $5,619,278.75. While it may be said that the capitalization of these expenditures was in accordance with the custom prevailing on many of the Western roads, yet it is equally true that on the strong Eastern lines the tendency is to charge improvements of a similar character of revenue.

The net floating debt of the Atchison Railroad Company is $9,149,587; of the Atlantic and Pacific $389,505; of the Colorado Midland $183,338; of the St. Louis and San Francisco, $487,591. The recapitulation of the floating debt tables shows: Gross unfunded debts, $15,106,381; gross offsets, $4,696,179; total net unfunded, $10,410,202. On April 30, 1894, the report states, the indebtedness of the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad Company was $5,883,534.92, and to the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad Company, $6,894,200.34, as will appear by their respective balance sheets. The indebtedness of the St. Louis

DENVER REJOICES.

A Great Celebration of Republican Victory.

THOUSANDS WERE IN LINE.

A Thousand were Present from El Paso County—Wit and Wisdom from Frank C. Goudy—The Biggest Demonstration.

Denver, Nov. 12.—The Republican parade and celebration to-night surpassed anything of the sort ever held in Colorado. Over 100 district organizations were in line, making an endless procession. Excursion trains during the day brought in thousands of people from distant points. One of the novel features of the marching line was the parade of the women's clubs. The procession was reviewed at the capitol grounds by Governor-elect McIntire. Thomas Bowen, F. C. Goudy and other speakers addressed several immense throngs from different platforms. Many novel floats and transparencies were scattered along the line and together with extensive pyrotechnic displays and music made up a jollification in keeping with the Republican majorities of last week.

Mr. Goudy said: "Ladies and Gentlemen: I always object to going to a funeral on a cold day (laughter), but if I take part in preaching anybody's funeral sermon, I am glad it is not my own. When you get your head full of wheels, you will know how a Populist feels.

"I think if we had an opportunity again instead of electing McIntire by 20,000 we would give him 50,000.

"This is but the forerunner of the great battle of 1896, when we will sweep this county from California to Maine.

"In this campaign we have demonetized Pence (laughter) and retired him from circulation (applause); we have sent to the museum of freaks the grand old hoodoo, and if you can find little Ikey Stevens anywhere to-night, you will find an icicle on the end of his nose.

"The thanks of the people of Colorado are due to the laboring men and the noble women, to the Republicans and to the loyal, splendid Democrats, who helped us to win this great victory. (Applause).

"An outraged and indignant people have turned down the whole crowd of lunatics, from Waite to Hegler. I hope, ladies and gentlemen, that we will not have again any such, maladministration of our affairs. We have elected loyal men and women to govern us for the next two years. We have accomplished a great victory for silver, because we have held to the people of the East that we are neither cranks nor do we propose to be governed by cranks.

"This is not the year of jubilee, but it is a time for all of us to shout 'Glory hallelujah, praise God, from whom all blessings flow,' and find some vast wilderness in which to bury the Populists forever. I thank you."

The list of organizations which formed the procession, in their divisions and order, is as follows:

The El Paso Delegation

Colorado Springs and El Paso county had a few people in Denver last evening. Only about one thousand was all. It made the town look deserted along towards evening as those who went were pretty much of the class that is largely in evidence about the streets. All of the roads had cheap rates and the people were going all day. The big delegations went about 2:30 on the D. & R. G. and the Santa Fe. The D. & R. G. sold over 500 tickets yesterday and it is safe to guess that the other roads made the number up to fully 1000. The delegation on the Rio Grande in the afternoon was accompanied by the band. The Gazette got out badges and although a large number were printed they did not go half way around the crowd that wanted them. Most of the visitors returned late last night but many will not come down until this morning.

ORIENTAL NEWS.

Delay in Considering the Proposal of Arbitration.

Washington, Nov. 12.—At a late hour this afternoon nothing official had been received at the State Department from either China or Japan. The Japanese ministry, it is well-known, are considering President Cleveland's proposition, but it is a matter of too great import to be settled hastily. The Emperor of Japan, whose headquarters are at Hiroshima, will be consulted and these various consultations require time. It is believed, however, that definite replies will be received from both countries by Wednesday of this week.

So far as China is concerned, it was not expected that her reply would be formally given until she had consulted Great Britain. That she is anxious to bring to a close a war so destructive to her interests, is well-known, and it is this that has led the Cleveland administration to believe that she will accept any honorable terms made by Japan. It was said to-day, however, by those who are in a position to reflect the views of the Chinese minister, that China will not dare to determine the matter absolutely until after Great Britain shall have been heard from. And it is not believed that Great Britain will be willing that the United States alone shall gain the prestige which will naturally belong to this countrp from bringing the war to a close. Great Britain is more anxious than this country that hostilities should cease, but she wishes to have a voice in effecting this result. China, it is thought, will, not for this reason offend Great Britain by rashly accepting the proposition of the United States until she first learns the temper of the British mind. Another stumbling block will be the amount of the indemnity. Japan will doubtless hold out for $100,000,000 while China will regard not more than half that amount as the proper figure. Aside from the very natural desire of China to reduce the indemnity as much as possible, it will be a matter of great embarrassment in her present impoverished condition, to raise so large a sum as that which Japan will exact. It can only be done by increasing her duty on foreign importations, which is now about 5 per cent, and which, in view of her treaty obligations, will not be so easy. Great Britain, who is the largest exporter of manufactured products to China, would be the first to protest against this increase in customs duties, and this is another consideration which will cause China not to act precipitately but to awaits Great Britain's pleasure.

A Victory at Talien Wan.

London, Nov. 12.—A dispatch from Tokio to The Central News says Count Ito Huobumi, the Japanese prime minister, reports that the Japanese at Talien Wan have destroyed all the torpedoes laid by the enemy at that place, and captured several torpedo boats with their apparatus, etc. The torpedo barracks at Talien Wan was occupied by the Japanese without disturbing the mines. Important maps of the position and all the torpedoes laid are also seized. When the Japanese fleet, with transports, entered Talien Wan bay, it was rumored that a Chinese squadron had appeared outside and a naval encounter appeared imminent. Suddenly, however, the Chinese observing the Japanese fleet, steamed rapidly away toward Wei Hai Wei.

A dispatch from Fusan, Koren, reports another rising of the Tong Haks in the provinces of Kyong Sang Do. The rebels were dispersed by Japanese troops, who killed six and captured 20.

A Billiard Match.

New York, Nov. 12.—The billiard match between Jacob Schaefer and Frank Ives was begun to-night at the Madison Square Garden concert hall. The men are to play 14-inch balk line game, anchor shot barred, for six nights, 600 points each night. Schaefer won to-night's game after 17 innings' play, by a score of 600 to 568.

In the sixteenth inning the score stood Shaefer 471, Ives 568. Shaefer then went in and scored 129 points, running out the game. Schaefer's average, 35 5-17; Ives, for 16 innnings, 35½. High runs, Shaefer, 149; Ives, 153.

NEWS IN VARIETY.

From Ill Fated Gem Gold Camp at Cripple Creek.

B. V. SHIPMENTS INCREASING.

Working Fifty Men at the Great Mine—Dr. Chamberlain Attempts Suicide—Fatal Fall From a Building—Mining News.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, Nov. 12.—Mr. A. H. Lefler of the Laus and Thompson Lumber Company has put two shifts of miners to work on the Colorado Boss No. 3, which is situated on the southeast slope of Gold hill. On this property a small stringer of ore has been opened up that will average $65 to the ton. The claim is being worked under bond and lease from the Cripple Creek Consolidated Company.

Messrs. Joseph Watson and James Casey are working under bond and lease on the Morning Glory No. 4, and on the Colorado Boss Nos. 1 and 2.

The lessees on the Orphan Belle on Bull hill have opened up pay mineral in several places, and one of the lessees have already made a shipment of a car load or more. This property was very prominent in the winter of 1891-'92.

Two new ore houses have been built at the Buena Vista. The mine itself is looming up as a great producer, and during the past 30 days has greatly increased its shipments. They are working 50 men in the three levels, and are taking out ore in two of them. The lower level is being driven to catch the ore chute which is dipping to the east.

Two shifts are now employed on the Lucky Corner, which adjoins the Dolly Varden, and is under lease to Joe Watson. The shaft is now down 50 feet, and is just getting through the wash. A cross cut will now be started to catch the Dolly Varden vein.

Mr. W. M. Swires is working three shifts on his lease on the Monte Vista. The mine shows up an 18-inch streak of quartz which runs from 8 to 10 ounces to the ton.

A large body of ore has recently been opened up in the City View, which is located on Gold hill. It is thought that the property will soon be among the regular shippers of the camp. It was recently purchased by Pueblo capitalists.

A contract has just been given to Fred Johnston and William Tell to sink a shaft on the Beemis lode. The new shaft will be located close to another one on the claim, and both will be on good ore all the way down, and it is thought that pay ore will be struck before much more depth is added, as the prospects are very bright. The work will be done as quickly as three shifts can make it go.

A report has been circulated among the miners in camp that the owners of the Elkton would require all employes to work nine hours after a certain date. It is probably all buncombe.

Rumor has it that the Beacon lode, on Beacon hill, has been sold for a fancy figure, and that a payment of $5,000 has already been made.

It is estimated that the output of this camp has been more than doubled in the last 60 days, owing to the exceptionally large number of good strikes made lately.

Mr. A. A. McKnight of the Cripple Creek Journal has gone to Pueblo with a car of ore from the Kennedy lease on the Mountain Monarch. It is thought that the ore will average about 11 ounces to the ton.

At 7 o'clock this morning Howard Sweet, the manager for the telephone company here, heard groaning in Dr. Chamberlain's office in the Brown-Pullen block, and finally entered the Doctor's room, where he found him lying on the floor unconscious. The physician was summoned, who pronounced it to be cocaine poisoning. Dr. Chamberlain is a cocaine fiend. About noon the physicians succeeded in bringing him to and he made the statement that he had taken the poison with the intention of killing himself. He said that he had also swallowed an ounce of carbolic acid, but this is said to be untrue. The wretched man says that he was a wreck, and a slave to the cocaine habit, and wanted to die. He succeeded in walking around at last, and when his watchers were off their guard he attempted to jump from the second story window, but fortunately was prevented from so doing in time. He has now been taken down to the jail for safe keeping. He has been quite comfortable and it is thought that he will recover, but his brain is badly affected from long use of the drug.

J. H. Brown, a carpenter, who was employed on the new school building in town, fell from a height of 39 feet and died soon after from the injuries received. The poor fellow had been in town several months looking for work, and this was his first job. He had not been at work six hours before he met with the accident which fractured the skull, broke a leg and caused internal injuries.

Safe Burglars Around.

Special to The Gazette:

Cascade, Nov. 11.—At 3 o'clock this morning Mrs. Garland, night operator at the Colorado Midland railway depot, heard an explosion and awoke her husband in the room adjoining the office. She opened the side door looking over toward the Harvey eating house and heard a light noise and then discovered a dim light. She came to the conclusion that burglars were at the safe and fired her gun to frighten them. A moment after firing, a man jumped out of the side window and ran toward the Ramona hotel, Mrs. Garland firing at him twice as he ran. Upon examining the eating house the outside safe door was found to be blown open, but the thief didn't have time to get into the safe. He broke open the cigar case and took a box of cigars and a few trifling things. The thief was a heavy set man and had on dark clothes. There was only one man. The men sleeping up stairs did not hear the noise but awoke when Mrs. Garland fired. Mr. Nott, the manager of the eating house, will be better prepared in the future for another attempt.

Zimmerman Returns.

New York, Nov. 12.—Arthur A. Zimmerman, the champion bicyclist, who arrived on the steamship Augusta Victoria, was welcomed this morning by about 100 friends. He was accompanied on his trip by Harry Wheeler, who has shared the honors with the champion during his stay abroad. Both Zimmerman and Wheeler will begin to-morrow to train for the cycling tournament to be held at Madison Square Garden, to be held during Thanksgiving week.

Zimmerman said; "The professional outlook for next year, I think, is the brightest I have ever seen, and the prospects for a professional league are very encouraging, and that amateurism will gradually die out, I have not the slightest doubt."

A GOVERNMENT LOAN.

Additional Particulars of Cleveland's New Bond Issue.

New York, Nov. 12.—According to good authority the government loan will be issued as soon as the details are perfected and the circulars are printed, probably on Wednesday morning. The issue will be $50,000,000 of 5 per cent. bonds redeemable in 10 years, and no set price will be fixed by the government. Assurances have been received by the leaders in the movement which warrants the assertion that the issue will be largely over half subscribed and bids will be on a trifle better basis than 3 per cent. The banks late to-day refused to make time loans on the rates which have been prevailing, as it is expected that the main portion of the $58,000,000 gold paid for the bonds will be withdrawn from the New York banks and trust companies. This will raise the rates of interest, and in anticipation of this result, the banks and trust companies decline to loan money until the effect upon interest rates can be fully calculated. All bankers concur in the opinion that the withdrawal of nearly $60,000,000 of money from general circulation will have more effect than in last January, as there is a better demand for money at present and the improving prospects of business indicate a still greater demand when the manufacturing and spring business begins.

IN HAWAII.

A Large Majority Still Favor Annexation.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 12.—The following Honolulu advices up to November 3 have been received here by the steamer Miowera:

The election was held October 29 for Senators and Representatives for the Legislature on this island, and all the candidates of the American Union party were elected. The single opposition candidate failed of election. On the other islands the candidates elected are nearly all active supporters of the republic. It is believed that all the Senators strongly support annexation, notwithstanding a disposition of some of the planters to advocate continued independence of the republic in order to be free to import Asiatic contract labor.

Henry P. Baldwin of Maine stands at the head of the planters, and is a leader in legislation. He has come out strongly for annexation, notwithstanding his desire as a planter for cheap labor. He believes that if annexation abolishes the contract labor system it will more than compensate in other ways. He thinks that there are too many Japanese in the country, that Portugese should be introduced instead; that the plan of co-operative planting or share system may succeed.

An autograph letter of Queen Victoria, recognizing the republic of Hawaii, was received on the 26th of October by H. B. M. Commissioner Hawes, but owing to the absence of President Dole in Hawaii it has not been presented. A letter of the Czar of Russia, recognizing the republic was received to-day.

The birthday of the Emperor of Japan is enthusiastically observed here by his subjects to-day. A procession of Japanese paraded the streets. The Chinese were much irritated, and notified the police there would be a fight upon the slightest display of insolence by the Japanese. There was no trouble.

President Dole is inspecting crown and government lands on the Island of Hawaii. He is preparing new homestead laws for the coming Legislature.

The British steamer Naushau arrived October 28 with 1,000 Japanese laborers. Several days previous the Japanese sailors mutinied and were supported by the passengers. A court martial is in progress upon the mutineers, held by the British commissioner.

The Japanese in Hawaii have raised $5,000 for the Red Cross society attending the Japanese armies.

The French cruiser Duguay Trouin arrived this morning 27 days from Callao, en route to Yokohama.

TRAIN HELD UP.

Express Matter Taken from The St. Louis and San Francisco.

Monett, Mo., Nov. 12.—Train No. 1, on the St. Louis and San Francisco railway, was held up at 8:30 o'clock to-night at a small station named Verona, five miles east of his city, by two masked men. The affair did not occupy over 20 minutes, and the amount secured by the robbers did not exceed $100.

The bandits boarded the train as it stopped at Verona and as the engineer pulled the throttle to start the train he was confronted with two Winchesters and given orders to go ahead until he was told to bring the train to a halt.

Half a mile out the train was stopped, and the engineer compelled to get down from the cab and walk back to the express car. Then he was told to order the expressman, Dolph Chapman, to open the door. Chapman did as requested, recognizing Engineer Stephenson's voice. The robbers immediately covered the express messenger with their guns, and compelled him to give them two packages that were in sight. Engineer Stephenson was then marched back to his engine and ordered to pull out. The robbers departed in a northerly direction. A posse of citizens is pursuing the men.

Train Robbers Sentenced.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 12.—The charge of conspiracy to rob a Rock Island train, to which Lee Frizzell and Fred Jones pleaded guilty this morning, was held by the court to be misdemnor and the prisoners were committed to jail for 30 days. After receiving their sentences the men admitted their connection with a gang which had been organized for train robbery and that plans had been laid out to rob one train just before they were caught. The leader of the gang, Newberger, is still at large.

THE CABINET SITUATION STILL UNSETTLED.

A Councillor Who Refuses to Resign—Possible Changes of Policy—The Prohibition of American Cattle Importations Comments on American Elections.

Berlin, Nov. 10. Cabinet politics is as confused as ever. The public uneasiness over the re-organization of the Ministry increases with every day's delay. From one hour to the next rumors as to more resignations and new appointments change and multiply. This afternoon the alarmists' report that the Emperor is not able to obtain the assent of several Ministers to remain in the Cabinet with Prince Hohenlohe and Freiherr Von Koeller.

The appointment of Freiherr Von Hammerstein to be Minister of Agriculture confirmed the popular fear that the Emperor, despite his recent promises, means to abandon Count Von Caprivi's tariff reform policy. The latest reports that Freiherr Von Berlepsch and Dr. Von Boetticher insist upon retiring, tend in the same direction. The United Press correspondent asked both Ministers to-day whether or not they expected to leave the Cabinet. Each gave a guarded denial, which left him uncommitted freedom of action. The possibility that both may go is generally recognized.

The Portfolio of Justice still goes begging. It has been offered alternately to Attorney General Tessendorf and Dr. Koch, of the Imperial bank, but each declined it. To-day it was placed once more at Koch's disposal. Should he finally accept it he would be succeeded as director of the Imperial bank by Dr. Von Rottenburg, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, or Herr Von Schraut, a Secretary of State in Alsace and Lorraine, and a well known bimetallist.

Councillor Goering, of the Chancellery, has raised a little scandal by declining to heed the request that he resign. He says that he will not retire without indemnification and he threatens to begin legal proceedings in case he be displaced. Meantime several departments of the government are half paralyzed owing to the general uncertainty. The Emperor had planned to go to the Court hunts at Letzling on Tuesday, but he decided to postpone the trip till Nov. 30. Prince Hohenlohe has gone on a mission to Munich, Stuttgart and Karlsruhe, partly to present himself as Chancellor, but mainly to explain the exact reason for the recent changes and the story of the prolonged Cabinet crisis.

The Kreuz Zeitung says: No new Ministerial appointments will be announced until Prince Hohenlohe returns on the 17th, when notices of other resignations will be made known.

Newspapers of all parties agree in demanding the earliest possible solution of the crisis. The Boersen Courier, Radical Unionist, recalls the fact that within seven years the Emperor has used up two Chancellors, four Imperial Secretaries of State, and 15 Prussian Ministers. The Grenzboten publishes criticisms of the same tendency. It adds that the time has come when Germans must rouse themselves to the defense of their constitutional rights, as confidence in the State stability of the government is vanishing fast. The Vossiche Zeitung, Liberal Free Trader, says: "We foresee that under Prince Hohenlohe and Freiherr Von Hammerstein there will be a revival of protectionist policy and the reversal of the freer tariff duties on grain and cattle imports inaugurated by Chancellor Von Caprivi. We can hope for nothing from Dr. Miquel. He remained in office when Count Von Zedlitz introduced his school bill and when Count Von Caprivi promoted the commercial treaties. He will stay in the Cabinet even if the severest police rules and the most extravagant agrarian protection triumph. We do hope, however, that the Minister with higher principles will not consent to serve with the new men and under the new measures."

Pending the settlement of the Cabinet crisis the subject of prohibiting the importation of American cattle has been allowed to rest. The Cologne butchers at their meeting yesterday read a letter from Prince Hohenlohe in reply to their petition. He wrote curtly that their representations had been referred to the Minister of Agriculture for consideration. In the meantime the official tendency is to fortify Germany's side of the case. In the Altona district, Herr Sellers, a veterinary surgeon, charged with the inspection of cattle and meats for Hamburg, reported on Oct. 3 that several animals from America had Texas fever. On Oct. 27 the Hamburg and Bremen Senates, under orders from the Chancellory, issued the first orders of prohibition. The independent inquiry made by the United Press correspondent leaves no doubt that the so-called infectious disease of the cattle was not Texas fever but chicken parasites. According to Dr. F. S. Billings, whose authority is recognized by the German officials, Texas fever does not run in cold weather—in fact, never develops between November and May. The issuing of the prohibition late in October, therefore, is good presumptive evidence that not sanitary but retaliation was at the bottom of the business.

Dr. C. G. Kinyon, of the United States marine hospital service, came to Berlin to study the use of Behring's serum, which has been of great service to the embassy in dealing with Texas fever theories. He has enabled Ambassador Runyon to bring it home to Freiherr Von Marschall that Americans could not be convinced of the necessity of the prohibition, but would regard the measure as simply a gratuitous annoyance. The action of the government, although commenced by the conservative cattle growers, is condemned by the German consumers. The general butchers also have already sent Mr. Runyon a request to inform them the instant prohibition is rescinded.

The Freissinige Zeitung says to-day in a leader in the American elections: "The Americans were embittered by the broken promises of the Democrats and wished to try another party, and especially after the Republicans seemed ready to put aside their old hobby of high protection."

The Tageblatt says: "The open enmity between President Cleveland and Senator Hill, the incredible corruption in New York city and the down fall of Tammany contributed to wreck the Democratic party. It was a triumph of the people as well as the Republicans."

The courts of Stuttgart, Weimar, Bavaria and Sowerin will send representatives to the Czar's funeral.

China Will Accept.

Washington, Nov. 12.—It is the belief here that China will readily accept the mediation of the United States and that Japan will do so after she is assured of proper indemnity from China. It is not likely Japan will accept the mediation unless $100,000,000 is offered. This will about represent what Japan has actually spent on the war. This is roughly figured as follows:

Japan had a reserve fund of $25,000,000 on hand when the war began. This has been spent. Then she negotiated a war loan of $50,000,000 yen (a yen being about equal to our $1). This makes $75,000,000 actually used in the war. Besides this Japanese citizens have contributed large sums and the government has incurred other large obligations.

The cable disclosure from Tokio that France made a proposition to the United States four days ago adds a new feature to the case here. It is said European powers were urging forcible intervention and this had been largely instrumental in inducing the United States to suggest mediation without force. It is understood that the French proposition has been rejected. The situation, therefore, presents an interesting game of international diplomacy. On one hand the great powers of Europe are threatening to forcibly come between China and Japan, while on the other hand the United States offers to come between them as a peacemaker. As between the two propositions it is not counted that the two contending powers will look to the United States.

THE POP. INQUEST.

Leaders Endeavor to Guess What It Was That Struck Them

Denver, Nov. 12.—The audience that attended the Populist weekly meeting in Coliseum hall last night was large, but it lacked the element of enthusiasm which has marked those meetings since their inception. There were many curious people there, too, who hoped to hear the Governor say something of a sensational nature concerning the big Populist defeat last Tuesday. The speeches were limited to 10 minutes duration.

S. R. Pratt, chairman of the Populist county central committee, presided. His introductory remarks were of a cheerful character, and in them he predicted the success of the ticket in 1896.

J. W. Deane of Aspen was the first speaker. "I am not dismayed by the defeat," said Mr. Deane. "We are only getting ready for 1896, when we shall have a glorious victory. We don't mean to let either the enemies of silver or of Colorado trample upon us in this or any other fight."

Miss Julia Cadwell sang two songs which were very warmly applauded.

Miss L. M. Campbell succeeded. Miss Cadwell in a brief talk and was followed by Mrs. E. G. Hibbert. "I was told I was coming to a funeral," said Mrs. Hibbert, "but if I did it is a very lively kind of one." This sally went with the audience, and then the speaker plunged into an analysis of the female vote in Colorado and of its future in other States. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again." Woman suffrage was killed in Kansas by the party who won a victory last Tuesday in Colorado if the women of Kansas ever get equal suffrage I hope, said Mrs. Hibbert, they will appreciate it better than the women of Colorado have done.

The speaker continued to say that overpersuasion had much to do with the woman vote last Tuesday. The influences which operated in this direction, Mrs. Hibbert said were "a husband's anger, a lover's displeasure, a diamond ring, a sealskin sacque, or, I blush to say it as a woman, a street-car ride or a package of chewing gum."

Referring to the exceptions that had been made to the holding of the Sunday evening meetings in Coliseum hall, Mrs. Hibbert said there were "more true sermons in the cause of humanity preached here than beneath the lofty spires that surmount fashionable churches." She eulogized Lafe Pence and said he was the greatest champion of silver Colorado ever had.

A. P. Rittenhouse said the war was between the oppressor and the oppressed, which was as old as when the world was first swung into space. The speaker advocated a closer method of organization in the party, and said literary political clubs were a necessity of the hour.

Lafe Pence was in pessimistic humor. "The election was held upon practically a plain understanding," said Mr. Pence. "We ought to be prepared to make no complaints. There are no tears in the Pence family over the defeat." The only tears shed was when the nomination was forced upon him, Mr. Pence said.

"I hope that Mr. Shafroth will be ready to say to-morrow night to the assembled hosts of Republicans that he would vote for a silver man for President as against a gold standard Republican should the election fall to the House."

Mr. Pence thought he saw in the Republican victory of last Tuesday a setback to silver. "I cannot read any signs of victory in the skies," he continued. "I do prophesy, though, that no free silver measure will come out of the Coinage committee, over which Tom Reed of Maine presides."

Mr. Pence believed there was only one chance in the century for the introduction of a silver bill. That was during the last three months of the Fifty-third Congress. He concluded by styling the meeting the most significant of the campaign.

Rev. Myron Reed said that from Butte, Mont., to Denver, he had not seen room enough in halls for Populists.

"The essential facts are the same as they were before last Tuesday," said Mr. Reed. "The farmer in Akron who sold his vote for $1, $2 or $5 on election now has neither the money nor his vote. But he has a big rent in his coat and a bigger rent in his self respect. I have not a word to take back. My respect for the Republican party has not increased one iota since last Tuesday. I helped to make that party. Then it was respectable; to me it is now only a lovely reminiscence; a beautiful memory.

"John Brown was a felon, a lawbreaker and an anarchist. He broke the laws of Kansas, Iowa and Missouri, and the law of the United States at Harper's Ferry. The mob broke his neck, but a few weeks after 100,000 men had arms in their hands ready to accomplish the work he had set out to do."

J. L. Johnson was of the opinion that there was not room in the United States for two gold monometallic parties. "The Republican monometallic party," said he, "has swallowed up the Democratic monometallic party. The only thing left of the Democratic party in the State is the Governor and candidate for Congress in the First district."

The speaker predicted a victory for the Populists in 1896 when "we will be free from political freebooters and bushwhackers and without hope from them in the future."

J. Warner Mills came out to fire a message to them to keep their tempers. "If the light has flickered out somewhat in Colorado it still burns brightly in South Carolina, Texas and other States. What we want is an American system of finance founded upon the spirit of Franklin, and without interference from European powers."

Highest of all in Leavening Power. Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

G. W. Hewitt of Georgetown told what Clear Creek had done for Populism and then Miss Phoebe Couzins bluntly said that the men who were writing letters to the newspapers ascribing the defeat of the Populist ticket to the Governor were "poltroons and cowards." Miss Couzins told stories of some Republican women she had met the day after election, and finished her talk by presenting the Governor to the audience.

The Governor was the last speaker of the evening. He read his speech from manuscript and was not very emphatic. His reception was very cordial as he stepped to the front of the platform. "In the preliminary skirmish for 1896," began the executive very deliberately, "we have been defeated in Colorado. It would be idle for me to say that the result was not contrary to my hopes and belief, for never in all my experience have I seen people more thoroughly aroused, so interested in the subjects discussed, and never in any election was more overwhelming argument presented against the Republicans."

The Governor then quoted the figures of the election which gave McIntire 85,000, Waite 66,000, Thomas 7,000 and the Prohibition candidate 2500. In analyzing this vote he said that the Democrats voted the Republican ticket, which also got the Prohibition and Catholic vote. He calculated that 15,000 Democratic votes that went to the Populists in 1892, went to the Republican ticket this year. The fraudulent vote, as he termed it, in Arapahoe, El Paso and Pueblo counties, he placed at 5000, and those who were intimidated from voting the Populist ticket were estimated at 4000. "This is a total," said the Governor of 25,000 votes, which, under normal conditions would go to the Populist ticket. Take this vote from McIntire's 85,000 and it leaves a straight Republican vote of 59,000, showing that the Populist straight ticket had 7000 more than the straight Republican."

The Governor then went over some of the old ground which he traversed during the campaign, criticising the Democratic and Republican parties for their attitude on the financial question and speaking hopefully for the future of the Populist party because of its successes in the Carolinas, Texas and Minnesota. The Populist platform, he declared, contained every principle in the Declaration of Independence. He quoted from the letters of Thomas Jefferson to show that if the Southern Democrats became Populists they would be only Jeffersonian Democrats.

Continuing the Governor said: "I stand squarely on every plank of the Omaha platform. I shall so stand until that platform is changed by a national convention of the party. There are some men and women who talk about the radical element in the Populist party but those who believe that its platform can be changed without the presence of the radical element reckon without their host.

"The Democratic party cannot be the nucleus of a reform party. The Democratic party remorselessly slaughtered Pence in Colorado and Bland in Missouri. Pence's record in Congress was without spot or blemish.

"One cause of the recent Republican majority," concluded the Governor, "was the hard times. Those times will be present in 1896 when the tide will be turned in our favor. For 'Freedom's battle once begun, bequeath'd from bleeding sire to son, though often lost is ever won.' Time at last makes all things even."

The meeting closed with three cheers, heartily given, for the Governor.

THE EHRICH COLLECTION.

A Notable Group of Paintings Now in New York City.

While you are waiting for the big exhibition of portraits of women to open in the Academy of Design next Thursday, take an hour to visit the rooms of the Fine Arts society, on Fifty-seventh street. The effort is worth making, if only for the sake of a single portrait which has just been hung there. It is an old portrait, but of the kind which is perennially young—the portrait of a man who, although dead for centuries, seems rather more alive and a great deal more individual than most of the men whom you daily meet in the street.

It is attributed to Franz Hals, and seems amply to deserve his name. But it needs no name to accentuate its excellence. It shows the head and bust of a rather young man, dressed in black, with a great black hat pushed back from his brow and almost filling the upper part of the canvas. The bust is shown almost in profile, while the head is turned nearly in full face, and the eyes meet ours. The color is soberly rich.

The pose is as spirited, the characterization as keen and emphatic as one must expect whenever Hals is mentioned. And although the treatment is not of that rapid, succinct kind with very bold, broad brush-strokes, which some people may think equally inseparable from his name, if we know Hals well we know that he did not always paint in this fashion. He arrived at it gradually during the course of a very long life, and many of the most famous of his earlier pictures are painted as quietly and suavely as this one, and even without as much breadth and ease.

Certainly no one can think with regret of any other method, noting the sureness and strength and completeness with which this face is drawn and modelled, the quick skill with which the scanty upturned mustache is indicated, the liquid vivacity of the brown eyes, the truth to texture in the flesh and hair and the intense vitality, the compelling charm—spiritual as well as physical—of the general result. Altogether it is a masterly thing in intellectual conception and in workmanship. And therefore it is a good thing to see before you try your eyes upon the multifarious methods of portrait-painting which the Academy show will reveal in bewildering variety. Of course, a great many of these methods will be very good, and yet will not in the least resemble the one which rendered this beautiful black-hatted gentleman. But you may feel sure that if you find anything which in treatment does resemble him it will be very good indeed.

This canvas is distinctly the pearl among the seventy that now fill the large first rooms in the Fine Arts building and form the major part of the collection of old Dutch and Flemish pictures which, gathered in Europe by Mr. Louis Ehrich, have been hanging since 1887 in the art galleries of Yale college. All New Yorkers who are interested in art have heard of this collection, but it is now shown for the first time to those who have not sought it out in New Haven.

It is well worth showing here; it would be worth showing anywhere in Europe. And its interest is all the greater because Mr. Ehrich has not fallen into the error which usually betrays the collector of old pictures. He does not despise all old masters except the very greatest. Therefore he has not sought for names instead of for intrinsic excellence; nor has he baptized the handiwork of lesser men with the names of their superiors. He is wise enough to know that the main thing about a picture is its pictorial quality, the only really valuable thing. And our perception of this fact gives us, in viewing his collection, an unwonted feeling that only conscientious, honest claims are being made upon our interest.

Perhaps not all the names which are attached to Mr. Ehrich's pictures are correct. I am not wise enough to decide. But when we are not asked to admire them because of their names the question seems of small importance. Perhaps, too, with the exception of the portrait I have described, there is no one work in the collection of the very first pictorial rank. But there is scarcely one which has not distinct interest. Many are extremely good and indisputably characteristic of the best mood of their painters, and a number of these painters have hitherto been unknown to untraveled Americans, even by hearsay. And therefore, as Americans especially need to be taught that the second-rate or even the third or fourth rate painters of great epochs were often admirable artists, Mr. Ehrich's collection should be heartily welcomed, not only for its attractiveness, but for its instructiveness also.

I hope some day to say something more about it. Now I will merely indicate, as among its finest examples, the "Little Holy Family" of Roger Van der Weyden; "The Virgin and Child" of Lucas Cranach, an unusually good specimen of a German painter almost ignored in this country; the portrait attributed to Van der Helst; the little still-life by Kalf; the old woman in a white dress cleaning fish by Lundens; the delightful little landscape by Peter Molyn, No. 40; the tiny Ostade, where a group of peasants are fighting, No. 51; the small Rubens, with many figures, No. 55; the admirable little church interior by Steenwyck; the amusing dance scene (for once a revel in high life) by Moeller, and a Biblical picture seemingly a representation of the starving Egyptians calling upon Joseph for help, by J. DeWit. There are bits in this last which seem quite worthy of Rembrandt's hand—notably the head of Joseph and the rich gamut of colors in the garments of the figure which stands near his right hand.

The catalogue gives us brief biographical notices of the different painters represented, with the numbers attached to their works. But it gives no titles or descriptions of the works themselves, therefore it is not quite satisfactory even when one is in the gallery, and it is useless for reference afterwards. One would also like to know where the principal pictures were purchased and whether their history is known to any extent. It is as foolish to make too much of pedigrees as of attributions, but the opposite course need not be pushed to exaggeration. (M. G. Van Rensselaer in New York World.

ARBITRATION PROPOSED.

An Offer Made by the President of the United States.

Tokio, Nov. 11.—United States Minister Dun has communicated to the ministry the substance of an important cipher cable proposition received from Secretary Gresham at Washington. It suggests that if Japan will join in requesting the President of the United States to act as mediator in settling the war he will exercise his good offices in that capacity. A similar proposition will be sent to China.

The cable was received by Minister Dun on Friday and was presented at a special meeting of the ministry. An answer has not yet been sent. The proposition presents a grave question to the ministry. They are urged on one hand by the popular sentiment to continue the war and crush China. On the other hand European powers are threatening to intervene. As between these conflicting influences the ministry find great difficulty in reaching a decision on the American proposition, but the prospect is that it will be accepted.

It is learned that four days ago France made a proposition to the United States to intervene.

THE CENTURY
In 1895.

Taking advantage of the general revival of interest in the Great Emperor, The Century will print during 1895

A NEW LIFE OF NAPOLEON,
Magnificently Illustrated.

The Century is famous for its great historical serials, and never in its history has a greater one been projected than this new "Life of Napoleon," written by Prof. William M. Sloane, of Princeton, who has spent many years in preparation for his work. Thus far no biography of "the man of destiny" has appeared in either English or French that is free from rancor and attentive to the laws of historical criticism. The Century has secured it—the great, all-round, complete and interesting history of the life of one of the most marvelous of men. No matter how much you already know of Napoleon, you will want to read this;—here is the concentration of all the lives and memoirs. The illustrations will be magnificent—the wealth of the Century's art department will be lavished upon them. Two members of the staff have just returned from Paris, where they have been securing all that is best of Napoleonic material. New portraits will be printed, great historical paintings reproduced, and Castaigne and other modern artists have drawn anew some of the great scenes of Napoleon's life for this history.

In addition to this there will be

A NEW NOVEL BY MARION CRAWFORD.

The title is "Casa Braccio," and it is a romance of Italy, full of human passion and exciting episode.

A NEW NOVEL BY
MRS. BURTON HARRISON

Will be published during the year. It is called "An Errant Wooing," and is a tale of wandering (and love) among new scenes of travel in Northern Africa and Southern Spain.

OTHER FEATURES

will be several familiar papers on "Washington in Lincoln's Time," by Noah Brooks, who was on terms of unusual intimacy with the War President; "The Cathedrals of France," by Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer. With illustrations by Joseph Pennell. Many more serials will be announced later.

RUDYARD KIPLING

THE PRICE of The Century is $4 a year. "No home is complete without it." Begin subscriptions with November number. Whatever other magazines you may take, you must have The Century. All agents and dealers take subscriptions or remittances may be made directly to

THE VOTE OF THE CITIES.

One of the most remarkable things about the election of last week was the overturning of Democracy in the large cities throughout the whole country. For many years, Philadelphia and Pittsburg have been about the only two cities that were safely Republican, although Cleveland and Cincinnati sometimes came to the front with a Republican majority. Last Tuesday, however, almost every large city in the whole country gave a Republican majority. New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburg, Denver all are on the Republican list, and Baltimore came near upsetting the solid Democratic majority that has seemed as rock-ribbed as the hills. As to Omaha, Kansas City and San Francisco, we are yet in doubt. As a whole, however, the great cities this year are Republican.

This is a very wonderful change, and there must be some general cause for it, aside from the local issues which gave the victory to the anti-Tammany combination in New York. Even in New York, where the disgust with Tammany induced many Democrats to vote the union ticket, there was a majority of Republican members of Congress chosen on purely national issues; and the same thing is true, even to a greater extent, in Chicago.

The one great issue which was presented in the general campaign in the States east of the Missouri river was the tariff. The foreign policy of the national administration came in for its share of criticism, the income tax was somewhat of an issue in a few districts, but in most of the districts protection was so eminently the one issue that the rest were almost entirely excluded.

Here, then, is the cause for the overturn of the Democracy in the cities; and we think the cause is sufficient to account for the effects. For many years Republican campaigners have been telling the workingmen of the great cities that their prosperity is bound up with the fate of the Republican party; but they did not believe it. They were not persuaded that the tariff made any difference with their wages, and so a majority of them always voted the Democratic ticket. But the events of the last two years have been more powerfully educative than any number of stump speeches, and the general depression and reduction of wages which followed the revision of the tariff brought conviction to thousands whom no amount of oratory ever could have moved. The workingmen of America have found out that while it may be better for workingmen the world over to have an approach to free trade, it is distinctly worse for the workingmen of America. Their altruistic instincts have not yet been developed sufficiently to allow them to rejoice over the prosperity of their brother workmen in the factories of England, Wales and Germany, and they do not seem willing to have their own wages reduced in order that workingmen in those other countries may have employment.

Does all this mean a return to "McKinleyism?"

That depends on what is meant by McKinleyism. If you mean a return to the exact schedules of the McKinley bill, then the answer is No, because the conditions of trade are constantly changing, and there must be a constant adjustment of tariff rates to meet the changes in conditions. But if you mean by McKinleyism protection to American industries to the extent of the difference in wages in this country and foreign countries, then the answer is emphatically, Yes.

The workingmen of this country have become used to a different scale of living from that in vogue among workingmen on the other side of the Atlantic, and they will never voluntarily relinquish the added comforts to which they have become accustomed. They want meat twice a day, not twice a week, they want clothes as good as anybody wears. They want carpets on their floors and pictures on their walls, and parlor organs or perhaps pianos for their daughters, and bicycles for their boys. They can't have these things with European wages.

McKinleyism, if we understand what that means, goes on the theory that the better wages our workingmen make, the greater is their power of consumption, and the larger the market they offer to American producers and manufacturers. It is the largest and best market in the world; and one proof of this is the frantic efforts which foreigners are all the time making to get a share of it. It may be selfish for us to compel foreigners who want to get a share of our trade to pay a large tariff in order to get their wares in here, but we think it will be acknowledged that this is an enlightened, and even perhaps a patriotic selfishness.

It is a good sign, we think, when the workingmen of the large cities cease to feel that they ought to be "agin the government." It is a great deal better for them to feel that they are with the government, and the government with them. We do not know whether the change in sentiment is likely to be permanent; perhaps not; but we do think that a great many workingmen are better informed on the tariff than they ever were before, and that the Republican party will keep a large share of the votes it got for the first time last week.

FOR SPEAKER OF THE COLORADO HOUSE.

We do not wish to seem premature; but we notice some discussion already of the question of who shall be the Speaker of the next House of Representatives in this State, and therefore we have no hesitation in giving our opinion on that subject at once.

His name is A. T. Humphrey, and he lives in El Paso county.

Mr. Humphrey made a record in the last General Assembly of which his constituents are proud. He has the respect and confidence of every man who served with him in that body. Everybody knows that he is thoroughly honest, and that no jobs would go through with his consent. He is thoroughly familiar with the procedure of the House, and with most of the members of it. He would distribute the committee places with absolute fairness and impartiality. He is able, vigorous, decided, a good parliamentarian, a sound and sensible leader.

We urge the election of Mr. Humphrey to this post on his own merits because he is the fittest man for the place. We do this without his knowledge or consent, but we have no doubt that he would accept the honor if it were offered to him.

There is another reason, however, why Mr. Humphrey should be thus honored, which we think will be allowed to have some weight. This county gave a Republican majority last week more than three times as large as the Republican majority in any other county in the State outside of Arapahoe, and larger in proportion to population than any other of the larger counties. This, it seems to us, is a fact that may properly have some weight with the members-elect.

It is still two months before the election will take place; but it is well that the matter should be discussed. Mr. Humphrey's friends have nothing to fear from the freest and fullest canvass of his fitness for the position.

The next Senate will have 43 straight Republicans, without the Senators from Utah. Messrs. Jones and Stewart of Nevada have hitherto acted with the Republicans in the organization of the body, and we do not know of any reason why they should not do so again. Mr. Peffer also has generally acted with the Republicans rather than with the Democrats, in any matter which did not involve Populism directly. The Populist successor from North Carolina to Mr. Ransom, having been elected as the result of a fusion with the Republicans will also probably act with that party in the organization. All these together make 47, or two more than a majority of the body. The chances are, therefore, that the Senate will be Republican in its organization after the fourth of next March. This means that it will have a Republican clerk and sergeant-at-arms and other employees, and that a majority of all the committees will be Republicans. It means that all the proposed legislation of the body will be shaped by Republicans, and that it can co-operate with the House in any measures of legislation that seem desirable. It does not mean, however, that any legislation of a violently partisan nature is likely to be enacted, or even proposed and debated. There is a chance in the peculiar composition of the Senate for the silver Senators to do some good work for their cause, and we have no doubt they will take full advantage of it.

It is a great disappointment to all concerned that the illness of Mr. Graves, who was to have delivered the first lecture in the Lyceum course, will prevent his appearance at the time advertised. The disappointment will be felt more by Professor Dickey than any one else and we sympathize with him in it. He has spared no pains to make this course a great success. But such an accident cannot be helped, and is not Mr. Dickey's fault. Mr. Graves will speak later in the season, and the rest of the orators will doubtless put in their appearance on schedule time, as they did last winter.

Last night's Republican jollification in Denver was one of the biggest things of the kind ever seen. There was no good reason why it should not be. This campaign was the turning point in the history of the State of Colorado. We are on the up grade now, and moving, and the movement is increasing. Nothing can keep Colorado down now. Pull open the throttle, and let her go.

The official vote in Garfield county shows the following pluralities: Waite 7, Mills 7, Parks 14. Mr. Parks was the only Republican who received a plurality, he being a resident of Glenwood Springs. The reduced vote for Mills is a fine compliment to Judge Campbell.

The Coliseum entertainment will be the feature of the week. If you have not got your tickets yet, make up for the omission as soon as possible.

The Reason Why.

Why are the cares of life so few?
What makes the sky so clear a blue?
What magic gilds the avenue?
I rarely question.
And why are all things changed to me?
I'm not bequeathed a legacy,
Nor is it just a case per se
Of sound digestion.

This is the cause of my content.
I asked my girl to have her rent...
She's been away on a long vacation.
Three months and over—
And now she's home again and friend,
Sweet smiling, with improved health,
She's given me to understand—
Well, I'm in clover!

COLISEUM FAIR.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Nights Will See The Opening.

Thursday evening the Coliseum in its completed form will be opened to the public for the first time. The event is the Coliseum fair entertainment. The fair will be as great an event as the one last June. This time a person gets about twice as much for his money. Thursday evening there will be an entertainment at the Coliseum and also on Friday evening. On Thursday evening the attraction will be an old-time negro minstrel with Colonel Ginger in charge. It will wind up with a grand realistic war scene in which will be a first rate show in every way, the Sons of Veterans will take part. This Friday night the programme will be changed and the entertainment will be a sort of musical. Saturday night there will be a grand promenade concert and the prizes will be distributed. One dollar admits to every one of these entertainments and gives a chance in the prizes. These are very valuable and besides the cash presents number many valuable articles. One of the articles is a valuable picture, and there is a $25 set of furs. Those who fail to take in one or all of the entertainments will miss considerable fun. Half the town will be there.

Colonel Ginger has charge of the entertainments which assures their success. Thursday, Friday and Saturday evening are the dates.

Arranging the Banquet.

Yesterday a meeting was held and committees appointed to complete the arrangements for the banquet to be tendered Hon. Irving Howbert under the auspices of the Mining Exchange. The date of the banquet has not yet been settled upon but it is not likely to be before next week. That is a matter that will probably be settled to-day. The committees appointed will meet to-day at the Mining Exchange at 12:30.

The committees appointed are as follows:

Arrangements George R. Buckman, W. P. Bonbright, J. W. Proudfit.

Finances V. Z. Reed, W. A. Otis, F. H. Morley.

Toasts T. C. Parrish, Clarence Edsall, Henry Russell Wray.

Reception—W. S. Jackson, Sherwood Aldrich, H. G. Lunt, Geo. E. Lindley, A. E. Rope, E. J. Eaton.

District Court.

Judge Campbell presided in the District court yesterday but adjourned it in time to permit the jurymen and court officers to attend the Denver celebration.

Thomas M. Patterson, attorney for the Bull hill men, asked the court to set the trial of the men at an early day. Judge Campbell refused to set the cases on the grounds that he did not care to take action in any of the cases where a change of venue would be asked for. He stated, however, that in the cases where there would be no change he would set them for trial or would fix the bail at such a figure that the men would not have to remain in jail.

The case of the People vs. Gibson was set for Nov. 20.

Trial of the case of the People vs. Salter was begun. Salter is the man who killed another man in the rear of The Gazette building last spring, named McKay. Cochran and Crowell are prosecuting the case and H. M. Blackmer is defending Salter. The examination of the jurymen was begun but not completed at the time of adjournment. The case will be continued on Wednesday.

Hursch & Co. vs. Kohn & Weinberg, assignee granted permission to replevin or otherwise protect the property.

Court adjourned until Wednesday.

John Temple Graves Ill.

Manchester, Ga., Nov. 10.

Professor J. M. Dickey, Colorado Springs: Graves seriously unwell. Have professionally forbidden his leaving home now.
DR. LEWIS JONES.

Manchester, Ga., Nov. 10.

Professor J. M. Dickey, Colorado Springs: My physician's telegram explains. Exceedingly sorry. Defer dates. Will write.
JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES.

It will be seen at once that the lecture for Wednesday evening at the Coliseum is postponed. Mr. Dickey desires to state publicly that another date will be announced for Mr. Graves as soon as possible. The lecturer is under written contract to appear in Colorado Springs this season.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

A large number of young men thoroughly enjoyed the address of President Slocum at the Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon.

The young people of the city are reminded of the union meeting this evening at the United Presbyterian church. Rev. Leo. Boone Thomas will speak.

The union meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. P. S. C. Es. held last night in the Presbyterian church was an exceedingly helpful one, and definite results were seen. The address of Rev. Chas. A. Crane was full of power and helpfulness.

The public are most cordially asked to join with the young people in observing this week of special services for young men. Remember it is for both sexes.

Young men are earnestly requested to meet at the Y. M. C. A. rooms this evening promptly at 7:30 for a brief service before going to the union meeting at the United Presbyterian church at 8.

HOTEL ARRIVALS.

THE ANTLERS.

Mrs. L. du Pont, P. S. du Pont, Wilmington, Del.; Wm. O'Brien, Aspen; Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Foeshman, J. S. Weller, Kansas City; H. J. Garney, St. Louis; Rev. Chester M. Smith, wife and child, Denver; Messrs. L. Johnson, Chicago; Wm. R. de Grouchy, C. R. Shaw, John F. Callahan and wife, Boston; D. C. Henderson, St. Louis; A. C. Goodrich, Kansas City; F. P. Welles, Chicago; G. B. Armitage, Denver; E. L. Goff, Philadelphia; H. J. West and wife, Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. Atrill and daughter, Toronto, Canada.

Dr. E. P. Anderson received a telegram Sunday from his wife at Ft. Worth, Tex., stating that Ye Arlington Inn, the hotel at which she and the children were stopping had burned and that they were caught without money and clothing. The hotel was built by the Chamberlains of Denver some four years ago and was conducted by J. W. McLean and J. W. Mudge, both former residents here. These gentlemen are making it one of the favorite places in the South and many Colorado Springs people have visited it. The fire occurred early in the morning and the guests had barely time to escape. The loss on the building is about $150,000.

The first meeting of Unity club for the current season will occur in the Sunday school room of All Souls' church at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening next, Nov. 15. The programme of the club, embracing a series of studies in American biography, is one of great interest and it is hoped will command wide attention. The paper on Thursday evening will be read by Rev. Mr. Mellen, and will be on "Benjamin Franklin, Practical Philosopher." After the paper the subject will be open for general discussion. The public is cordially invited.

The press dispatches from Sacramento yesterday brought an account of a sensational affair that has a local interest. The dispatch states that a year ago or more a young lady named Josie Regan, principal in one of schools there, left for Paris where she was to have an operation of some kind performed. Later a cablegram from Paris announced that the young woman had died. Now, however, it is learned that she is not dead but is married and living at Colorado City. Her husband is named John Clare and he is an engineer on the Midland. An inquiry was made and it seems that there is an engineer of that name and his wife living at the Hoffman house in Colorado City. The people at the hotel claim that they know nothing of the matter or whether they are the people.

The Funeral at Moscow.

Moscow, Nov. 12.—The body of Czar Alexander II was taken from the Kremlin at 10:20 to-day and conveyed to the railway station, en route for St. Petersburg. The procession from the cathedral of Archangel Michael to the station was much the same as that upon the occasion of the arrival of the body and its conveyance to the cathedral.

The streets were lined with people and troops and the same mourning decorations were displayed. A special service was held at the station prior to the departure of the funeral train.

The members of the court, noblemen, conspicuous citizens, delegates and crowds of other classes assembled at the Kremlin at 8 o'clock this morning to attend the ceremony called Bortie. The chief subject of interest was the address of Czar Nicholas to his subjects. Reporters were excluded.

The Czar, leading his mother, passed along the line of noblemen and grandees to the dais, from which he spoke. It is said that he expressed in firm tones the grief he felt in revisiting Moscow under such sad conditions. His father had entrusted to him, he said, a message of thanks to the people of Moscow for their loyalty to him. For himself, it would be his aim to walk in his father's steps.

The Czar then conducted his mother to the Cathedral of the Archangel Michael, where the imperial and royal princes had assembled for service. After the prayers the signal of three guns announced the time of the departure for the railway station. The procession left the cathedral in a dull rain. The thick layer of sand on the new pavement had been churned into mud. The silence was broken with cheers when the Czar passed. During the procession yesterday a runaway horse dashed among the image bearers, seriously injuring one of them.

Warehouse Burned.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 12.—Fire this morning destroyed the three story brick warehouse of the State penitentiary. The building contained a stock of chairs belonging to Messrs. Norman and Hubbard, of the Kentucky Chair company. The total loss is $60,000; insurance, $40,000. The explosion of a lantern caused the fire.

Floods in England.

London, Nov. 12.—Recent heavy rains in several districts of Great Britain have caused floods which have done damage to property to the extent of many thousands of pounds. Fortunately, however, no loss of life has been reported. In the Isle of Wight, Devonshire and Cornwall, the damage has been most severe. The railway station at Ryde was flooded and at St. Ives it was found necessary to make use of boats in rescuing the people from their houses.

More Cook Gang Outrages.

Muskogee, I. T., Nov. 12.—The Cook gang held up farmers and stole horses and saddles six miles from here early this morning. They are headed toward Fort Gibson, and a posse starts out to-night.

Yesterday seven members of the gang went to the farm house of James Dinkens near Perry and demanded food, which was refused. The outlaws then bound Dinkens, his wife and daughter, and plundered the house. The Dindens family was not released till some neighbors arrived in the evening.

Elmer Lucas, a member of the gang under arrest at Fort Smith, Ark., made a full confession Saturday of his connections with Bill Cook.

Lulu Cook, who was arrested last week at Tahlequah, is at liberty here on bond. She has written a long statement to the public, charging that marshals harassed her brothers Bill and Jim until they were forced into outlawry.

ATCHISON AFFAIRS.

and San Francisco Railroad Company to the Atchison on the same date was $1,-661,269.01. While the indebtedness of the St. Louis and San Francisco shows a deficit in 1891 of only $599,661 and a surplus in other years as follows: 1891, $200,701; 1892, $311,510; 1893, $116,424. These great reductions in the former reports are made by items which should have been deducted as explained in Mr. Little's special report of August 6, 1894. The amounts deducted are as follows: Atchison, 1891, $4,-692.12; 1892, $3,379,414; 1893, $4,185,692; 1894, $2,294,252.

Atlantic and Pacific, 1891, $720,144; 1892, $125,412; 1893, $217,810; 1894, $596,814.

Colorado Midland, 1891, $289,369; 1892, $224,700; 1893, debtor, $13,657; 1894, debtor, $47,567.

St. Louis and San Francisco, 1891, $2,-182,259; 1892, $2,490,994; 1893, $2,383,812; 1894, $1,671,994.

The balance will show that on April 30, Atchison owed for matured bond interest unpaid $1,545,195. This is not included in the floating debt statement previously given. In addition to this there are accrued liabilities not yet due for interest rentals and taxes of $2,742,396, and various other items. St. Louis and San Francisco owes in current liabilities, matured interest and coupons, etc., $2,673,-Colorado Midland to the Atchison was $1,595,916.66. These claims aggregating $16,-040,919.93 are apparently worthless, and should, in my judgment, be written to the debit of profit and loss. A synopsis of the deficiency in the net earnings of the Atchison system applicable to interest on its funded debt, not including guarantees of the securities of the auxiliaries, shows for the four years ended June 30, 1894, an aggregate of $5,168,292.33, or an average of $1,292,073.08 per year, as follows: 1891, $1,-964,285; 1892, $60,938; 1893, $134,820; 1894, $3,-008, 242.

Table of corrected revenue returns for the four years ending for the Atchison Railroad Company shows the following net earnings: 1891, $5,204,819; 1892, $7,853,172; 1893, $8,085,697; 1894, $5,956,614.

Atlantic and Pacific deficits were as follows: 1891, $1,603,749; 1892, $895,335; 1893, $1,009,630; 1894, $1,360,034.

Colorado Midland deficits were 1891, $332,196; 1892, $372,159; 1893, $608,680; 1894, $647,-754.

600. Atlantic and Pacific owes in current liabilities and accrued interest on bonds, $1,959,121. Colorado Midland owes in current liabilities, including coupons and accrued interests, $659,404. The balance sheets, including over-due interest and all liabilities of a contingent liability character, show Atchison owes $20,118,390; St. Louis and San Francisco, $2,663,097; Atlantic and Pacific, $1,959,121, and Colorado Midland, $5,849,404—total $25,410,524.

Appended to the report is a table of the business derived by the Atchison system from each main branch in the year ended June 30, 1894, prepared by W. K. Gillett, general auditor of the company. The earnings of the system on business interchanged with the Atlantic and Pacific were $3,866,389, while the Atlantic and Pacific derived $2,133,382 earnings from the system. The earnings of the system on business interchanged with the St. Louis and San Francisco were $1,696,743, while the St. Louis and San Francisco derived $2,130.26 business from the system. The business interchanged with Colorado Midland yielded $1,025,473 to the system, while the Colorado Midland derived $727,211 earnings from the system.

The consolidated balance sheets of the Atchison company show a profit and loss balance, being an excess of liabilities over assets of $1,530,682, exclusive of the amount due from the Sonora government for subsidy to the Sonora Railroad Company. Included in the assets are $16,040,-919, due from the Atlantic and Pacific to the Atchison and St. Louis and San Francisco and from the other subsidiary companies to the Atchison company, which Mr. Little states in the body of the report are apparently worthless and should really be written to the debit and profit and loss.

The Atlantic and Pacific balance sheet shows an excess of $14,264,000 liabilities in excess of assets.

The St. Louis balance sheet shows a profit and loss balance excess of assets over liabilities of $7,729,754, to which should be added $1,610,049 Atlantic and Pacific notes, pool account, stamped as worthless in the body of the report, and $1,688,000 cancelled bonds in the sinking fund, making a nominal net surplus of assets of $6,027,000.

The balance sheet of the Colorado Midland shows a profit and loss balance, being excess of liabilities over assets of $1,447,914.

It appears that the St. Louis and San Francisco alone shows a surplus of assets and the actual assets of the Atchison system are nearly $18,000,000 less than the liabilities, due to the fact that the rebates which were paid and not charged, were figured in the apparent surplus of the official annual reports of the company under President Reinhart's regime.

SOUTHERN FIRES.

Arkansas and Mississippi are the Sufferers.

Memphis, Nov. 12.—To-day has brought no relief from the forest fires over in Arkansas, but on the other hand, fire has broken out in North Mississippi on an even more extensive scale than those in Arkansas, and now the entire Yazoo Delta is threatened with the flames. Memphis is hemmed in on three sides by vast fires, and it is impossible to enter the city by any road without passing through mile after mile of heat and smoke. The fire in Mississippi started 10 miles south of Memphis, and extends through De Sota and Tunica Counties to the town of Tunica. This fire closely skirts the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley road, and its origin is credited to a recent visit of inspection paid by officials of the Illinois Central. The section foreman, anxious to make as good showing as possible, set fire to the grass along the roadside. All vegetation being dry and parched, the flames so started were soon fanned into a conflagration that spread through the forest. Plantations have been wiped away, with buildings, fences and ungathered crops. A great deal of cotton is still ungathered, and all this is in the line of the flames, and being destroyed. There are rumors of negroes lost in the conflagration, but nothing positive as to this can be learned. The railroad tracks have not been injured yet, though they are in great jeopardy, and trackwalkers are on the route night and day. Over in Arkansas there is no relief from the fires, though yesterday there was every indication that the end was at hand. They are located along the line of the Little Rock and Memphis road from the river 31 miles inland. Large forces of men are at work on the road, and the Iron Mountain and Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham removing all inflammable material from along the tracks. The most destructive fire is in Lost swamp, 27 miles from here. Many feet of the Little Rock and Memphis track were burned out one-half mile west from the river. The fire near Mound City, which is the nearest point to the river reached by the blaze, has burned itself out. This did much damage. The fences on the Green plantation, near Mound City were burned, as also were great piles of staves and lumber. A five hundred acre tract belonging to J. C. Neely of Memphis was swept of everything in the shape of vegetation, dead or alive. Much valuable timber in the same neighborhood belonging to Mr. Kennedy Jones, is also gone. A trestle on the Iron Mountain road near Elmont took fire, but no other damage was done to the track in that vicinity.

Near Edmondson two negroes, one a young girl, were burned to death in the swamp. Many bones, said to be human, have been found.

Colorado Springs Exchange.

Colorado Springs, Nov 12—The week opened with a rattling morning's business and with most of the stocks showing great strength. The busiest and one of the strongest stocks was Creede and Cripple Creek of which an even 25,000 sold, the best part of it going at 2, being a big advance over last week and it looked as though all offered at that price would have been taken, as it closed stiff at 2½. Mollie Gibson again showed considerable strength and went up as high as $2 20 bid with none offered at less than $2 25. Portland begins to show signs of activity but may be expected to be strongly beared, and in consequence is selling at variable prices A. J. is bid for at $1.10 but there is no stock offered. Isabella continues strong and is selling at 17 in good blocks

There was another rattling good call in the afternoon with trading in eleven stocks out of the eighteen listed ones. Creede and Cripple Creek was all the rage and was selling in large quantities at 2 with all offered at that price immediately snapped up. It closed strong at 2 and 2¼. The next busiest stock was Isabella which sold at 17, a thousand of the stamped variety going at 14½. Argentum was a little firmer in price with some trading but Mollie Gibson was not quite so strong. Anaconda keeps well at the 21 mark and at nearly every call now there is some trading in it Pharmacist, Portland and Mt Rosa are all suffering from an overdose of manipulation and the first two would probably be higher were it not for this cause. The sales for the first call amounted to 43,150, for the second they were 39,800, making a grand total for the day of 82,950

The separate sales for the first call were: Creede and Cripple Creek, 7000 at 1⅞ and 18,000 at 2; Isabella, 100 at 16¾ and 8000 at 17; Mt. Rosa, 2000 at 4¼; Mollie Gibson, 300 at $2.19, 200 at $2.14½, 200 at $2 15 and 150 at $2 20; Pharmacist, 4000 at 7; Portland, 100 at 28, 100 at 28¼, 1000 at 29½, 2000 at 29¾. For the second call they were: Alamo, 300 at 1¾; Anaconda, 1000 at 21; A. J., 500 at $1.16½ and 100 at $1.15; Consolidated, 3000 at 1½, Creede and Cripple Creek 18,000 at 2, Fanny Rawlings, 500 at 7⅛; Gold and Globe, 3500 at 4 and 500 at 4⅛; Isabella, 1000 at 17¼, 5000 at 17 and 1000 "stamped" at 14¾; Mollie Gibson, 400 at $2.14, 700 at $2 15 and 200 at $2 18½; Pharmacist, 2500 at 7; Portland, 1600 at 29½.

The Denver Pit.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Nov. 12.—The market opened briskly here to-day and the first four or five stocks on the list were in good demand and strong. Mr. Frank Roudebush was in the pit and attempted to bear Anaconda but did not meet with very great success as the price was only lowered a point or two, on the opening quotation. Amity is very strong and the knowing ones predict that it is going up in price from now on. Boston and Idaho jumped up to 14 and closed strong at the quoted figures There was no great demand for Mollie Gibson but it was firm at $2 08 and $2 10 Broker Hogy jumped on to Pharmacist and succeeded in knocking it down a point or two but did not do much with the stock

	Bid	As'd.	Sales.
Amity	1½	1¾	9000

The curb sales were only light and do not show much regarding the state of the market. They are as follows: Argentum J., 500 at $1 15; Ararria, 15,000 at 3; Aola, 2000 at 2; Smuggler (Aspen), 100 at $2.05; Golden Dale, 20,000 at $3 per 1000.

A Busy Opening.

Special to The Gazette.

Denver, Nov. 12.—The mint officials were kept busy this morning with a good many deposits that were handed in. there being no less than 16 in the first hour of opening. A good deal of the yellow metal came from outside the State, the most noticeable being that from the big Mammoth mine in Arizona, owned by Hall and Sullivan. The retort weighed 32 ounces and was a beauty. Other outside deposits came from South Dakota, 11 ounces; Nevada, 35 ounces; New Mexico, 141 ounces. Those from Colorado were from La Plata, 16 ounces; Park, 28 ounces; El Paso, 15 ounces; Summit, 14 ounces, Gilpin, 109 ounces, and "Colorado Unknown, 650 ounces, making a grand total of nearly 1500 ounces for the opening hours of business.

Curb Sales

The week opened busily with the curb brokers, the chief trading being in Gould, Aola and Enterprise, all of which stand at about last week's prices. There are, however, other stocks in the list which have not been traded in for some time and give good signs of future trading Nugget come forward with a sale of 5000 which is about as big a block of this stock that has been exchanged recently. It is said that the affairs at the mine warrant this increased activity.

E. C. Fletcher & Co., mining and investment brokers, 28½ North Tejon street. Cripple Creek stocks a specialty.

Current News.

Over 80,000 shares sold on 'change yesterday.

An off board sale of 10,000 Creede and Cripple Creek was reported to-day. The price was 1 5-8.

Two-sixteenths in the lease on the Ruby lode on Bull hill have been transferred to the Lomax brothers.

Broker Frank Pettingell had the honor of being elected vice-president of the Republican ratification meeting.

Fine deposit of 100 ounces of gold, from Gilpin, at the Denver branch mint yesterday, came from the Centennial mine.

The Bob Lee outlook is said to be exceptionally good. The stock will in all probability soon be listed with the exchange.

Lessees at camp are making money hand over fist which is their just reward for so greatly advancing the interests of our great gold fields

There is no end to the big strikes in Cripple Creek and every one reported will bear verification. The day for booming is over were it even necessary.

The members of the Denver Stock Exchange are getting up a big dinner at $10 per head to commemorate the recent glorious election in which the mining interests of the State were so much benefited.

It is reported that the Gold and Globe company have reduced the size of the bond on the Gold King, one-half of which is bonded to Mr. Edward Skews and associates The bond will be taken up about next Saturday.

Messrs. Hawkes and Bassett were both showing some beautiful specimens of ore showing free gold in quantity They came from the new strike in the Ocean Wave, one of the Creede and Cripple Creek company's claims.

All members of the various committees elected yesterday to assist at the banquet to be tendered to Hon. Irving Howbert are requested to attend at the mining exchange at 12 30 p. m The names will be found in another column.

Messrs E C. Fletcher & Co. yesterday received a check for $1,500 from an eastern client. With the check there was also a note inscribed as follows: "Now that Colorado has gone right you may invest the enclosed for me in such mining stock as you think fit." Truly, "brevity is the soul of wit."

The 100,000 mark is slowly but surely being approached for the day's sales on 'change Yesterday there were but 50 short of 80,000 and is consequently the record of our exchange, and with this good start the week itself also promises to be a record one, for three such days as yesterday will nearly reach all previous efforts

There was a big demand for Creede and Cripple Creek yesterday on the floor of the house and on the curb As stated in these columns before two claims of the company are under bond and lease. They are the Ocean Wave and the Little Mary and it now looks as though both the bonds will be taken up without a doubt It was also stated here that a good find had been made on the Ocean Wave but this has now been improved upon. The first strike was made at the north end of the claim but later the vein was traced up the hill and was opened up again and in the bottom of the 26 foot shaft there is a large quantity of very fine ore, nearly all of which shows free gold. The high grade ore it would be absurd to assay, as it would give all sorts of fancy returns but the "low grade stuff" runs 18 70 ounces to the ton. The way it has opened up shows the vein to run northeast and southwest and it is bound to run through the Little Mary as the present workings are quite close to the side line. With the object of opening it up without further delay men have been started to work making open cuts on the surface and will no doubt have it opened up in a very short while. On the Ocean Wave there are about 12 tons ready for shipment but it will be saved until there is a car load which will not be long as the vein is big and it is being taken out fast. The fortunate lessees are Mr. W. B. Stoorer and associates on the Ocean Wave and Mr. W. L. Davis on the Little Mary. Mr. Davis was recently married to Miss Thompson at the house of Secretary Carlisle.

The Land Hunger.

Of late years a great hunger for land has been growing upon the people. This was proved by the great rush into Oklahoma, and is constantly being proved by the rapidity with which good real estate all over the country is being bought up by people who get it solely for permanent investment, with no intention of again offering it for sale. In the larger cities of the East real estate prices are now very high and are constantly getting higher, with less property offered. We people in the West are fortunate because we can get real estate cheap and before it is massed into the ownership of a few. Before many years real estate of all valuable kinds will be hard to get in Colorado. Those who buy now are investing in something that will constantly enhance in value.

Colorado Springs is the best town in Colorado, and it is just now entering upon the most prosperous epoch in its history. It has, as it always has had, its unrivaled attractions as a health and pleasure resort and fine residence city, and in addition to those resources it now has one hundred and fifty rich gold mines constantly producing wealth that will be used in the upbuilding of the city. The confidence of Eastern investors is now fully restored, and that one thing was all that was needed to send this city forward with a great impetus. We have sold over $15,000 worth of real estate the first week after election, and the inquiries for all kinds of real estate are increasing every day.

We offer for sale a big list of real estate, and we are posted on values. It would be hard to give even an idea of the list we offer, but if you want real estate investments no matter what kind or price it will pay you to look over the town with us, and then compare our prices with your own ideas, and with competing prices.

THE MARKETS.

LONDON A SELLER IN THE NEW YORK EXCHANGE.

Net Changes Show Losses in the General List with Atchison a Leader—Bonds Active and Higher—Corn and Wheat Show Fractional Advances.

New York, Nov. 12—Money on call has been easy at 1 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 3@4 per cent Bar silver 63¾. Sterling exchange unsettled, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 86@4 86½ for 60 days, and $4 87@4 87½ for demand. Posted rates, $4 87@4 88 Commercial bills $4 85¼@4 85¾. Government bonds have been lower; state bonds dull, State bonds firm Silver at the board was quiet at 64¼ bid.

The opening of the stock market was irregular, some of the active issues showing advances, while others scored losses. The irregularity was the result of heavy selling for London account, due to the rumors abroad that there will be no issue of Government bonds at this time While the sales for this account were comparatively heavy, footing up 150,000 shares of various stocks, the offerings were well taken, and by 11 o'clock the whole list was on the advance once more. Sugar led the list, rising 2¾ to 96½ on heavy trading, the principal buying having been by a Broadway house, credited with inside connections. Chicago Gas, Grangers, Jersey Central, Hudson and Manhattan were all prominent at a high range.

The rise indicated profit taking and the early gains were generally lost Atchison was particularly weak, being influenced by the report of Expert Little. The statements so far as the earning capacity of the system is concerned, was better than predicted, the company having earned 3¾ per cent on the general fours for the fiscal year of 1894 The securities of the company gained slightly after the publication of the report. Manhattan was sold down from $1 08 to $1 06¾. The report for the September quarter is published It shows that the company earned .55 per cent for the quarter against 1 65 per cent in 1893 and 1.76 per cent in 1892. Late in the day the room traders usually arrayed on the bear side of the account, discovered heavy liquidations by an operator responsible for the big rise in Sugar, and immediately the bears began to increase their short lines. As a result the closing was barely steady. Net changes show losses of ¼ to 1¼ per cent in the actives list. In the inactive list, Lake Shore fell -¼, United States Cordage 1¾ to 11, United States Cordage preferred, 2 to 20, Metropolitan traction 2¾ to $1.09¾. Sales of stocks were 280,069 shares.

The railway and miscellaneous bonds were active and higher. Sales were $2,547,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Nov. 12—The news, foreign and domestic, and the sentiment of the trade were both friendly to wheat today, and the bear element was in the minority by a large percentage. A moderate increase in the visible supply, 1,193,000 bushels, was an influence for good because the amount was not greater. The cables were strong and encouraging, and New York was said to have been buying orders for foreign account. The buying by H. V. Lester & Co., Lamson Bros. & Co., and by Brosseau was of an important character, as it was large in volume and represented Eastern, Western and local trade. Other houses were active and in many cases prominent. An interesting piece of news was the report that Liverpool stocks had decreased 700,000 bushels during the first 12 days of November, and 2,000,000 bushels since October 1. The bad weather, a decrease of 112,000 bushels in the amount on ocean passage and moderate receipts, Northwest 673 cars were items of less merit, but, nevertheless, beneficial. Chicago received 188 cars. The Prairie Farmer to-day issued a report which estimated the feeding of wheat to stock up to the present time at 60,000,000 bushels, and a probable further consumption in that manner of 40,000,000 bushels Export clearances were 270,235 bushels, 126,537 bushels were taken from store. May wheat opened from 59⅞ to 60¾, advanced to 60¾ and closed at 60⅝, with a gain over Saturday of ⅞ of a cent. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 82 cars.

Corn—What interest there was in corn came altogether from the local trade. The outside was devoting its attention to wheat to the exclusion of everything else. There was a widening of the difference between the current month and the far off deliveries, holders of November selling in anticipation of larger receipts during the balance of the month, while May was bought on the strength of wheat. Cables were about steady. Receipts were 219 cars, and 235 are estimated for to-morrow. Withdrawals from store were 51,861 bushels, and 51,536 bushels cleared at the seaboard The account on ocean passage increased 181 000 bushels, and the visible increased 20,000 bushels. May corn opened at 50, sold between 49⅞ and 50⅛ @50½, closing at 50¼@50¼—¼ over Saturday.

A PALE GRAY DONKEY OF DAMASCUS,

Scenting a well-filled manger of corn and oats, slipped his halter to roam over the arid desert, where he found among the hot sands and burning rocks a scanty crop of thistles; and on the third day he perished.

The moral of this is: Don't be a pale gray donkey.

Don't wander away from home without going over the ever popular Santa Fe Route.

The Santa Fe has lines in fifteen States and Territories. It always gets there carefully and on time, considering all things. Is cheaper than other roads.

Don't persuade yourself that any other way is satisfactory; especially if figuring on a trip to Chicago and East. The Santa Fe is the shortest line by thirty miles between Kansas City and Chicago, and has few crossings at grade. Its vestibuled flyers are beauties. Two of them leave Colorado points daily. Why not take a trial trip?

Burlington Route.

THE BEST LINE EAST

Is unquestionably the Burlington route. In point of equipment, time and service it is conceded to be superior to all other lines.

The fast vestibuled "flyer" leaving Denver daily at 9 p. m., reaches Chicago at 8:20 a. m. and St. Louis at 7:20 a. m., the second morning, in ample time to connect with all fast trains for the East and South.

It is also a fact worth remembering that the Burlington is the only line running through trains over its own tracks from Denver to Chicago and St. Louis, without change of any class of cars.

For full information call on J. M. Ellison, local ticket agent or address G. W. Vallery, general agent, 1039 Seventeenth street, Denver.

Wabash Route.

WHY TAKE THE WABASH

For St. Louis?

Because it is the shortest line, the best equipped line, runs free chair cars, buffet Pullmans, and gives you ample time in Kansas City for supper.

For Toledo or Detroit?

Because it is the shortest line, avoids transfer across the city in case you are going further east, and makes close connections with all trunk lines.

For New York or Boston?

Because it has solid through service from both Chicago and St. Louis via Niagara Falls; gives forty minutes stop at the falls at seasonable time in the morning.

For all other Eastern points?

Because its service is uniformly good and you can make no mistake in asking for tickets via the Wabash.
